Harry Potter Excerpts

Bold, Verdana, size 4, center

October arrived, spreading a damp chill over the grounds and into the castle. Madam Pomfrey, the nurse, was kept busy by a sudden spate of colds among the staff and students. Her Pepperup potion worked instantly, though it left the drinker smoking at the ears for several hours afterward. Ginny Weasley, who had been looking pale, was bullied into taking some by Percy. The steam pouring from under her vivid hair gave the impression that her whole head was on fire.

2nd Para: Times New Roman, size 4, justify, green text

Raindrops the size of bullets thundered on the castle windows for days on end; the lake rose, the flower beds turned into muddy streams, and Hagrid's pumpkins swelled to the size of garden sheds. Oliver Wood's enthusiasm for regular training sessions, however, was not dampened, which was why Harry was to be found, late one stormy Saturday afternoon a few days before Halloween, returning to Gryffindor Tower, drenched to the skin and splattered with mud.

3rd Para: Geneva, size 2, black text, text indent once, bullet, left align (looks a little different than below!)

- Even aside from the rain and wind it hadn't been a happy practice session. Fred and George, who had been spying on the Slytherin team, had seen for themselves the speed of those new Nimbus Two Thousand and Ones.
- They reported that the Slytherin team was no more than seven greenish blurs, shooting through the air like missiles.

You must turn off the indent and bullet before beginning the next part! It is a toggle.

4th Para: Courier New, size 3, numbered, purple text, left align, Gryffindor Tower & Nearly Headless Nick is bold, italic

1. As Harry squelched along the deserted corridor he came across somebody who looked just as preoccupied as he was.
2. Nearly Headless Nick, the ghost of Gryffindor Tower, was staring morosely out of a window, muttering under his breath, ". . . don't fulfill their requirements . . .
