

LI WORKS PARTICIPATING SCHOOL DISTRICTS WITH ADVISORY BOARDS

Advisory Boards—Provide a structured forum for local school districts and their community to come together to develop relationships and programs to enhance students’ skills. When LIWC was created in 1999, only 15 of the 126 school districts had this form of structured communication. Today there are over 65 school district advisory boards and the numbers are growing. The LIWC trains and supports these boards through training, Advisory Board Circle meetings and listservs. LIWC will continue facilitating the creation of boards and will be working on collaborative efforts between East End districts.
